Integrate Processes Across Your CPA Firm with Century Software's BPA

CPA firms use a wide range of applications for each operation and their departments often work in silos. These systems need to collaborate to achieve a single source of truth. The intersection of data from the firm's ecosystem of applications provides the ultimate insights needed for high performing firms.

With Century Software BPA solutions, you will receive a centralized application to achieve full-firm automation that enables a consolidated business process approach and enhanced visibility, and gain the capability to interact seamlessly with local databases via custom API's as well as hosted third-party applications via published API's.
